

Seniors, Juniors, Sophs Schedule Nominating Assemblies this Morning

Senior, junior, and sophomore-class nomination assemblies will be held this morning in room A 1, according to Bob Madsen, Student Council member. The senior class will nominate their officers at 10:30; juniors follow at 10:45; sophomores at 11.

Officers to be nominated for each class are: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Qualifications for these offices, according to the ASB constitution, are:

"That the candidate must be an ASB member, a declared member of his class, on clear standing, not more than six units deficient for his class, and not hold any other ASB office."

"Students are urged to attend their nomination assemblies this morning," ASB President Don Schaeffer said yesterday. He said that you "should be vitally interested in your class elections."

He pointed out that a person with an organization of 30 or 40 persons behind him, is sometimes able to get himself elected to an important ASB position.

Student primary elections will be held Oct. 27 and 28. Run-off elections will be held the following week, Nov. 2 and 3. The Student Council has approved the two day elections "in order to have better and longer campaigns." The campaign period has been extended to "not less than five, nor more than 15 days."

Betty Brisbin, senior representative to the Student Council, says that officers who are elected will hold office until the middle of winter quarter.

AWS Tells of 'Jinx' Plans

The Associated Women students held a business meeting Wednesday to appoint committees for the forthcoming "Jinx" annual AWS production.

AWS President Marilyn Zeller appointed the following women to "Jinx" committees: Melba Sills and Beverly Etter, publicity; Virginia Cox, posters; Barbara Harvey and Wendy Clark, decorations; Gloria Cathey and Marilyn Pestarino, tickets.

Others serving on committees are: Leta Walters and Sara McHenry, games; Gerri Lopes, Pat Kiddie and Doris Tyler, entertainment; Beth Calvin and Margaret Diez, refreshments; and Joni Beeler and Virginia Wetzler, clean up.

The "Jinx" will be held Nov. 10 in the Men's gym. All women students are invited to attend. The program will include games, entertainment and refreshments.

"We expect the 'Jinx' to be the greatest one in history," Miss Zeller said. "With the wonderful enthusiasm the girls are showing, the 'Jinx' is bound to be successful."

Following the business meeting, the AWS members adjourned for a movie and a talk on the necessity of supporting the Community Chest.

Community Chest Donation Serves As Dance Ticket

Donations to the Community Chest will be the admission charge for a special dance to be given in the Student Union Saturday night, according to Bob Madsen, student chairman of the campus Red Feather drive.

Plans for the dance are being completed by the Social Affairs committee. Dancing will last from 9 p.m.-1 a.m., Madsen said.

A special television show scheduled for Saturday afternoon has been cancelled because of difficulties in obtaining installation for the set. Only $985.49 of a $2000 quota had been received in the Community Chest drive, Madsen said, and the TV show had been planned as a special attraction.

Free Choice Seats For White-Clad Spartans Tonight

FREE: To any Spartan who wears white at the game tonight: 50-yard line seats at the San Jose State-Santa Barbara football game.

Rally Committee Chairman Glenn Stewart emphasized the need for an all-white rooting section. "Last week we had the best section of the year, mainly because the center was all white," Glenn added.

Pom-poms will be sold at the game tonight for 15 cents each. The gaily-decorated sticks are made by AOP1 sorority. Rally committee chairman Glenn Stewart urges all to buy a pom-pom and also to bring a megaphone.

Roy Bertorelli was elected vice-chairman of the Rally committee at Wednesday's meeting. "Dusty" Rhode, USC transfer, was chosen chairman of the card-stunt committee, replacing Don Ansel who resigned because of "mounting scholastic pressure."

Grass Requests Membership Lists

All on-campus organizations are requested to furnish the Student Court with a list of the names of organization members and their ASB card numbers, according to Al Grass, chief justice of the court. The lists should be placed in a sealed envelope and put in the 'S' box in the coop on or before Nov. 10.

"Failure to turn in this information on time," said Chief Justice Grass, "will mean that court proceedings will be filed against the violating organizations."

John O. Gregory, prosecuting attorney of the court, pointed out that the court can revoke the on-campus privileges of the violators, including the use of the date book, use of the on-campus meeting places, and the use of on-campus publicity.

A letter that will be sent to presidents of on-campus organizations says that in accordance with the ASB constitution, members of on-campus organizations and participants in departments receiving student body subsistence shall be members of the Associated Student Body. This is simply accomplished by the member's purchase of a student body card.

The Court is requesting this information to protect ASB members against encroachment upon their benefits and privileges by non-members.

Combo to Provide Music for Dance

Fred Dutton's four-piece combo will play at the "Foot Ball" sponsored by the senior class after tonight's game with Santa Barbara. Chairman Ed Burnham announced that the dance will be held in the Women's gym from 10:30 p.m.-1 a.m.

"Everyone is invited, and we encourage stags," Burnham said. He added that admission is 35 cents each.

Patrons are Miss Marie Carr of the Speech department and Mr. William P. Ewens of the Psychology department.

may be seen today at 3:30 or 4:30 p.m. in room S 112. Donations will be the admission charge to this special showing.

This is How It's Done

Care and Beware Students, There Are Rattlesnakes In The Science Dept.!

By Harry Britton

Ever hear a sound like a soft electric alarm without a definite ring? That is roughly the way the deadly rattlesnake makes his presence known in this world.

If you would like to know just how it feels to become acquainted with one of the writhing rattlers, ask Manuel "Tex" Taxera, in charge of the physics property room in the Science building. Monday three of the snakes were presented to him in a well-sealed box by "Rattlesnake Bill" Henderson, a good friend of Dr. Robert D. Rhodes, professor of biology.

Best to Use Live Exhibits

One of the best ways to acquaint students, who take field trips as part of science courses with the possibility of nature in the rough, is with live exhibits, claims Dr. Rhodes. Since California has a fairly high rattlesnake population, he is certain that students should know what the animals look like, and learn to recognize the peculiar sound of their "rattles."

"Rattlesnake Bill" is an old-time rancher who lives near Loma Prieta in the Santa Cruz mountain range, according to "Doc" Rhodes. As he has seen the rancher hold as many as five of the creatures at once, Dr. Rhodes commented that the man is "utterly confident of his ability to pick up the snakes without danger."

The rattlers that the old-timer presented to the Science department ranged from three feet to a foot and a half in length. At present they are housed in a double wire mesh cage in room S 206, and interested students may look at them, Dr. Rhodes said.

Snakes Like Mice

Geology and surveying classes occasionally bring in a few live specimens, but for most of the rattlesnake exhibits, Dr. Rhodes depends on "Rattlesnake Bill." For food, the snakes are fed live mice but students seldom are privileged to see the kill, the biology professor stated.

Although they are not milked for venom, during the few times that the animals must be handled, every safety precaution is taken. Dr. Rhodes has a deep respect for the poisonous snakes and expects, with normal care, to keep them indefinitely for student instruction.

Veterans Office Requests Info

The following veterans enrolled under the GI Bill are requested to report to the Veterans office, room 32, as soon as possible to complete forms: Buchanan, William R.; Capella, Raymond M.; Crook, Lester O.; Hall, Robert O.; Herrgesell, Oscar W.

Marchoke, Edward J.; Mohr, Douglas C.; Sabory, Alfred A.; Wheeler, Robert T.; Riffel, Ben R.; and Millovich, David Paul.

The following veterans attending college under the California Veterans bill are requested to report to the Veterans office, room 32, as soon as possible: Angus, Richard C.; Beckwith, Richard E.; Bradford, Donald Ray; Connolly, Earl L.; Freeman, Russell C.

Hatch, Thurston W.; Hawkes, Robert L.; Kalman, George M.; Mariotti, Richard A.; Ramirez, Trinidad; Roth, Robert B.; Simunovich, Jerry T.; and Stein, Joseph M.

School Officials Support Prop. 1

School officials are asking support of proposition number 1 in the November 8 elections, says the United Press wire service. The proposition calls for a state bond issue of $250,000,000 in loans to elementary, high school, and junior college buildings.

Truman Blames Congress

Truman doesn't like deficit financing. This was what he had to tell newsmen, along with placing the blame on the 80th Congress for the current heavy deficit. More taxes will be asked when Congress meets again.

Reno Has Marriages, Too

In Reno a somewhat surprising announcement has it that the divorce capital has issued its 300,000th marriage license. Since 1929 an average of 21,000 couples received licenses yearly, and for divorces the average is only 5,000 a year.

Parade Date Changes Force Sked Revision

Chief Claims Parade
May Cause Traffic
Snarl Downtown

San Jose State college's Homecoming parade will be held Wednesday, Oct. 26, instead of Thursday, Oct. 27, as previously announced, said Ed Mosher, Homecoming committee chairman.

The parade date has been moved forward one day, according to Chief of Police R. J. Blackmore of the San Jose police department, to prevent hazardous conditions that would result on an evening when the stores are open in the downtown area. When asked if the parade date was moved forward a day due to a request from the Downtown Merchants association, Chief Blackmore emphatically denied that the merchants had anything to do with the change of date. He stated that it has been his policy to cooperate with the college when ever possible.

The assembling area for the parade will be First street, instead of Fourth street.

The parade will assemble on First street between St. John and Julian streets.

The remainder of the parade schedule is as follows: All floats competing for trophies must be in their assigned positions by 6:30 p.m. on parade night. Units not competing for trophies must be in their assigned positions by 7 p.m.

The parade will begin at 7:30 p.m. The route of march for the parade will be directly down First street to San Carlos street, east on San Carlos street to campus, and will disband here.

The Homecoming committee is now sending out parade positions and requests that floats and units follow directions in order to avert confusion.

19 Beauties In Queen Race

Nick Lickwar, Homecoming Talent show director, announced yesterday that the Homecoming committee has received applications from 19 girls, who will compete for Homecoming Queen honors.

The Queen contest will be run in conjunction with the Homecoming Talent show to be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 25. The contestants will be introduced at the Talent show and a select group of judges will choose the girl to reign as Queen over Homecoming festivities.

Director Lickwar has gathered together a group of talented Spartans, who will present various acts in harmony with the Homecoming theme "Remember When."

A list of girls who are Homecoming Queen candidates follows:

Pat Brandt, Phyllis Zemer, Maile Enzensperger, Betty Boehmke, Barbara Lee Campion, Florence Musso, Jo Ann Moody, Carol Rickey, Virginia Bowers, Patty Burke, Margot Supple, Patricia Alexander, Dolores Peterson, Nancy Hardy, Marie Laxalt, Esther Guerra, Jacqueline Hicks, Ruth Ann Rainville and Carolyn Plough.

Lickwar remarked that seeing the candidates, this year's Homecoming will be by far the most beautiful that this campus has ever experienced.

State's Last Chance

Tomorrow is State's last chance to pay off a debt owed by each and every student to one of the most noteworthy charities in existence, the Community Chest.

By attending the dance in the Women's gym tomorrow night or seeing the television program in the afternoon at the Student Union, students who did not contribute to the Drive this week can still do so and get a good day's entertainment in the bargain.

In a last minute effort to raise funds to meet San Jose State's quota of $2000 the Student Council had to move fast in order to present these two varied programs. Both are extremely worthy causes and deserve 100 per cent attendance.

At the present writing, the Community Chest drive on campus is little short of a failure. Only $900 of an expected $2,000 has been raised by classroom solicitation.

A mere $900 from a student population of more than 8,000 people on the campus is a sad state of affairs. It is hard to believe that a college student cannot afford twenty five cents toward such a worthwhile undertaking as the Chest.

The work of the Community Chest needs no elaboration here, everyone is familiar with this group's fine work in the past. A capacity audience at tomorrow's dance and television show will redeem an impending college failure.

Admission to the two affairs will be by donation only. Every cent collected at the door will go to the Community Chest.

Thrust and Parry

Don't Be Misled

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In reply to the letter signed "ASB 5409" in the Spartan Daily, I should like to assure him (or her) that the campus gossip is absolutely true. Language classes are hard. It requires intense and sustained mental effort to acquire a new language. You strove long and hard to learn to speak English, but you were so young when you did it that now you don't remember the mental stress it cost you.

There are no magical "new" approaches to get you around the fact that learning a language, or increasing your intellectual power in any other way, costs hard work. If you don't experience real mental fatigue, you aren't achieving worth-while development of a more competent self, even though you may be learning something. "Getting the facts" is relatively easy; making yourself an able man is tough, tiring work.

Why struggle with the foreigner's language? Every language is the result of the struggle of a community to carry out a complete analysis of experience (never attained, obviously). Your thinking is limited by the language symbols you control. It is also channeled by the basic structure of your language. ("Yours" because you struggled with it and in it since infancy.) If you are willing to make a "foreign" language "yours," your power of analysis and expression will be widely increased. Can you use more power of that sort in democratic America, in this atomic world community? I think so, if we are to survive.

Your letter was very well written, — clear and concise. Don't take seriously the attempted humor which missed fire in the same column above your letter (signed "E. W. Atkinson—FPC 60"). The English construction limped so badly in the fourth paragraph that no meaning was conveyed, but more serious was the preceding levity; none of our students should be misled into thinking that a member of our faculty spent four years studying German with no discernible effect on his subsequent mental processes. That was supposed to be a joke, son, (let us hope.)

I suppose there is no need to point out that Ph.D. candidates are expected to use their German (and French, etc.,) in a continued quest for further knowledge of their chosen field of investigation. Some rest on their "laurels" and are content to let their tools grow rusty, but they are not to be emulated. Progress depends on active minds.

William Moellering.

Questions, Questions

Dear Thrust and Parry:

We've all been wondering at the identity of the SPARTAN DAILY'S erudite military affairs analyst. Could you tell us who he is and why he has not been called to testify before Congress. Surely such sagacious, such profound views should be laid before

Southland Beauty

Tournament of Roses Queen Attends State

By THAD A. SPINOLA

We have a reigning beauty queen in our midst, but few of us are aware of it. Miss Virginia Bower, a comely blue-eyed, blonde sophomore music major from Arcadia, Calif., was crowned queen last Dec. 28 of the annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

To win the contest, Virginia had to demonstrate her superiority over 2300 rivals in personality, intelligence, and beauty. She was attending Pasadena City college at the time, and girls in gym classes were to compete in the contest along with those from John Muir college.

Featured in Life

Her duties as queen required her to appear in a parade and preside over the California-Northwestern Rose Bowl game ceremonies. National publicity was given her when Life magazine carried a two-page feature on the famed beauty contest in its Jan. 10, 1949, issue.

"The contest," she said, "was thrilling; it was valuable from the standpoint of personality development. Winning the contest was an honor I'll value forever."

Likes Local Men

The Swedish-Irish beauty believes consideration in men is more important than mere good looks. Her impressions of local college men have been favorable.

Recent changes in women's fashions hold little interest for her. She says too much emphasis is placed on artificial beauty, and she believes natural attractiveness is more important than the beauty salon variety.

Miss Bower is impressed by the friendliness of San Joseans, and she welcomes the absence of smog, an atmospheric malady peculiar to southern California cities.

Asked if she'd participate in local campus queen contests, she replied, "I don't know."

Los Angeles Dogs Don't Like Bebop

Oct. 19—(UP).—Leading a dog's life in Los Angeles can be just a bit of all right, according to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Soothing music calms Fido's frayed nerves in the main Los Angeles humane shelter, Alex Tilley said.

Bebop and jazz were tried first on dogs, Tilley said. "But they just didn't go for it." So now they listen to recordings like those of Guy Lombardo.

U. S. servicemen mailed 3,000,000,000 letters a year during World War II.

Couples Exchange Vows In Recent Nuptial Rites

Hill-Jones

Among the young married couples attending San Jose State college this quarter are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lawrence Jones who were married at informal rites in Glendale, Calif., recently.

The bride is the former Miss Alice May Hill. For her wedding the new Mrs. Jones wore an ivory satin gown with peplum cascade of satin and train. She chose a fingertip veil which fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried two white orchids and lilies of the valley on a Bible bound in olive wood from Jerusalem. Her jewelry was a cameo and pearl lavalier belonging to her grandparents.

The bride donned as her going-away ensemble a green pebble, crepe with black accessories.

She attended Hastings college in Hastings, Neb., the University of Nebraska, and was graduated from Glendale college.

The bridegroom attended Farragut college in Farragut, Ida., and Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney, Wash. He served two years in the Navy.

Both are attending State. Mrs. Jones is majoring in English. Mr. Jones' major is sociology.

Burck-Graves

Recent additions to the newly married set on campus are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Graves.

The couple were wed at First Congregational church in Palo Alto with the Rev. G. Arthur Casady officiating.

Mrs. Graves is the former Miss Doris Burck of San Bernardino. She wore a gown of white taffeta faille with a flared five gore skirt. A Juliet cap held the finger-tip French veil, and elbow-length mitts completed the ensemble. The bride carried a white prayer book and an orchid.

White gladioli and stock decorated the aisle to the altar where Mr. H. M. Burck escorted his daughter.

Mrs. Graves is a post graduate student here. She received her degree last June. Graves is also a June graduate continuing studies this autumn.

Maddox-Wortman

Late afternoon was the setting for the wedding between Miss Patricia Elaine Maddox and James Wortman. The rites were performed by the Rev. Roy Wilson of Oakland in the First Methodist church of Lindsay recently.

The new Mrs. Wortman wore a gown fashioned with an oval-shaped neckline and full skirt of white slipper satin. Chantilly lace trimmed the finger-tip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli with pink roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Earl McCarty of Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. Wortman was graduated from San Jose State college where she was president of Kappa Phi Omega sorority.

Wortman is the son of Mrs. Mabel Wortman of Palo Alto. He is a graduate of the University of Arizona.

Kumle-Brown

A gown of embroidered white eyelet, a finger-tip veil, and seed pearl coronet were worn by Miss Jeane Kumle when she became the bride of Maj. Howard E. Brown, USAF, at a recent ceremony at the United States Naval Air Station chapel at Moffett Field.

Mrs. Brown attended San Jose State college. She has been employed as an airline stewardess.

She is affiliated with Kappa Rho Sigma.

Major Brown is a graduate of the University of California and is now on duty at San Jose State college with the Air ROTC. He is adviser to Delta Upsilon here on campus.

Maj. and Mrs. Brown left on a motor trip through the Northwest following their reception and are now making their home at 1700 Santa Barbara Drive, San Jose.

Winslow-Johnson

The Presbyterian church in Hollister was the scene of the wedding between Mrs. Jacqueline Winslow and Pete Johnson recently.

The new Mrs. Johnson wore a plum-colored suit accented by black accessories and a tiger orchid.

The bride is a graduate of San Jose State college where she received her degree in education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. McKee.

Johnson is the son of Mrs. Elyda Johnson of Fresno. He is the editor of the Hollister Evening Free Lance.

Wilson-Sailer

Miss Lorna Irene Wilson changed her name to Mrs. David John Sailer at a recent ceremony in the First Baptist church.

Gowned in mousseline de soie, brocaded in a rose pattern, the former Miss Wilson was escorted to the altar by her father, Ward E. Wilson. Her finger-tip illusion veil was held by a maline coronet, and she carried a bouvardia and orchid bouquet.

The bride was attended by Miss Gertrude King and Miss Carol Fiscus.

Both of the newlyweds are senior students at San Jose State college. The bride is affiliated with Delta Phi Upsilon, honorary kindergarten-primary group, and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society.

Sailer is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, honorary industrial arts fraternity, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Kappa Phi Stages Pledge Tea Sunday

Gauchos Hit by Injuries

Spartans Open Defense Of CCAA Title Tonight

By George McDonald

The Spartans begin defense of their CCAA championship tonight against Santa Barbara at 8 p.m. in Spartan Stadium.

Leading the league with their win over Fresno last week, the Gauchos are three-touchdown underdogs. The "three-quarter" Spartans are ready to go over the .500 mark with win number four.

Gauchos Hit By Hurts

Injuries have hit Santa Barbara hard. Seven regulars missed Monday's practice. Of these, defensive half Doug Gorrie and star tackle Bob Wooldridge are almost certain to miss tonight's game. First string ends Adran Adams and Fred Lloyd did not practice at all this week. Their injured wrists will hamper them tonight. The other tackle, Wayne Templeton, is on Coach Roy Engle's starting lineup. But Engle says that it depends on his sprained ankle.

Only good news as far as the Gauchos are concerned is that Fullback Rolfe Brice is ready to go. Brice missed Santa Barbara's first three efforts. The Gauchos lost all three games. Then he returned to give his team the spark they needed. He averaged 4.9 yards on 9 carries against Fresno. Brice is a smart defensive line-backer. He is 6 ft., 180 lbs., and played at John Muir college last year.

Coach Bill Hubbard will ride with the same boys that have gone so well for him this year. Vico Bondietti and George Reeves will open at guards for San Jose. Bondietti has recovered from his injury and will start over Carl DeSalvo. Reeves, a transfer from Napa JC, will replace the injured Dick Harding.

Stein Will Start

Mel Stein, a terrific defensive end, will start tonight for San Jose. He has not played too much this season, but finally is ready to play a complete game, if needed.

Fullback Harry Beck has earned a starting berth for the Santa Barbara game. Besides being the Spartans' punter, Beck proved he can run by driving into the Don's end zone last week.

Two other Spartans who will

see action after layoffs are Don Dambacher and Fred Silva. Both boys are ball carriers, and rough defensive halves.

San Jose is not expecting too much trouble tonight. The Gauchos will be "up," but they're reaching for the sky. Their backs may be fast, but not as fast as Finney and Matson.

SJ Harriers Run Against Mustangs, Gators, Tonight

Co-Captains Marion Day and Dore Purdy will lead the San Jose State Cross Country team in quest of its first victory this afternoon when the Spartans meet San Francisco State and Cal Poly on the Lake Merced course.

In prepping for the meet, the Spartans ran their first official "Paper Chase" during the week. The brother duo of Al and Bob Weber took the measure of the field and finished first and second, respectively. Third place honors were taken by Jim Simpson.

The idea of the "paper chase" is for men designated as rabbits to start running, dropping paper to mark their path and to also drop a paper bag along the way. Several minutes later the other runners, noted as hounds, start off in pursuit. Points are awarded for order of finish, rabbits caught, and paper bags retrieved.

Bob Weber garnered extra points, in addition to his second place, by catching Bill Head and scooping up a paper bag. Another rabbit, Doug Prestage, finished safely, but he was forced to really travel to keep away from Al Weber.

The course was somewhat steep, but that should put the team in fine shape for running over the Lake Merced course this afternoon in competition with the Gators and Mustangs.

Don Students Are Rambunctious -- Paint H2O Tower

MORAGA, CAL., Oct. 20—(UP)—University of San Francisco students raided the St. Mary's campus last night, painting the water tower gold and green—the USF colors.

Raiders during the night also walked away with a bench that allegedly was stolen by St. Mary's players from the USF school two years ago.

The activity was preliminary to the annual gridiron clash at Kesar Stadium Sunday between the two schools.

Tiger Backs Like Enemy End Zone

Although the College of Pacific Tigers, led by the great Eddie LeBaron, have amassed 215 points in mangling their first five opponents, only 30 of the 215 have been via the air.

LeBaron has tossed three scoring aeriels, and his replacement, Doug Scovill has heaved 2. "Excellent Eddie" has attempted 75 passes and completed 38 for a .507 average. Scovill has tried 26, completed 13, for .500.

Also strange is the fact that right half Paul Williams, not even listed as a starter, is the team's leading scorer with five trips to the pay window and 30 points. Williams has packed the leather on but 12 occasions, and has traversed 120 yards for a 10 yard per pack average.

Bill McFarland, the Tiger "Toe," has booted through 22 out of 29 attempts to rank just behind Williams in scoring.

Contest Tomorrow Afternoon Frosh Meet USF in Only Home

By Ted Breeden

Coach Tom Cureton's frosh football squad, which has been developing rapidly, will be out to prove that even with a late start in practice they can take the measure of the tried and heavier USF frosh team. The frosh team makes its only home appearance tomorrow afternoon at the Spartan Stadium against USF, game time, 2 p.m.

The Don frosh boast two wins and no defeats while the Spartan yearlings have made good on one try. The Spartans have greatly improved on offense and defense during workouts since their 34-0 win over Lassen JC last Saturday, are expected to really give the Frisco lads a tussle.

The Staters are still a little ragged on tackling, but blocking has improved. The Spartans shine on pass defense and if USF is to score it'll have to be over the ground on good hard running.

The starting lineup is still tentative due to the spirited play of the Spartans for the starting slots, yet Saturday's game will probably find game co-captains Stan Wacholz and Clarence Orr leading the following team onto the field:

- Left end—Wacholz.
- Left tackle—Orr.
- Left guard—O'Steen
- Center—Abrami.
- Right guard—Salvadelena.
- Right tackle—Henderson.
- Right end—Sweet.
- Quarter—Barbier.
- Left half—McClain.
- Right Half—Jordan.
- Fullback—Farmer.

Frosh Plan Rally

Frosh football fans are asked to attend a rally at 3:30 p.m. today in the Morris Dailey auditorium for the 2 p.m. Saturday clash with USF first-year men at Spartan stadium.

Prospective yell leaders should be there at 3:15, according to Class Adviser Wilbur F. Luick. The affair is under the organization of Mr. Luick, and Ed Mosher and Glenn Stewart of the Rally committee.

Water Poloists Play Today Versus Big Red at Stanford

Although his ankle is not yet ready for all-out swimming, Captain Fred Hanssen will probably start against Stanford today at 4 o'clock in the men's pool at Stanford University, when the Spartans meet the Indians.

Rated as the best defensive man on the team, Hanssen missed the Olympic Club game. The Clubbers pumped in 15 goals. So, his ankle's behavior this afternoon may be the key to San Jose's winning or losing its first start against the Big Red this year.

The Spartans have won one and lost one so far this season. They have the speed and accuracy that means points. All they need is to improve their passing.

San Jose's frosh team also plays water polo today, meeting the Stanford Papooses in the preliminary game at 3 o'clock. The frosh now have a record of three and two. They slaughtered neighboring San Jose high's Bulldogs 23-3 in their last outing.

Spartans who wish to go to the game turn off El Camino at the football stadium, follow the road until the track and field clubhouse is directly on the left, turn left again at that clubhouse, go one block and turn right, and go one block to the men's swimming pool.

SJS Graduate Dies From New Insecticide

By Harry Britton

Keith Hughes, a former San Jose State college student, died in southern California from Parathion poisoning this summer. The college Science Department has received his library and insect collection as a gift to aid students in the search for higher education. Dr. Carl D. Duncan, department head, revealed yesterday.

During the war scientists developed DDT, the "wonder insecticide", to control disease in foreign lands. Since then the fight in post-war insect control has progressed rapidly. Parathion is one of the latest discoveries in the field and has been tried successfully in California.

Dies From Poisoning

Working at the University of California agricultural experiment station at Riverside, Keith Hughes was spraying in orange groves with the insecticide this summer. One afternoon he was suddenly taken ill, and, within an hour, died from parathion poisoning.

Prior to his unexpected death, scientists had suffered no ill effects from the insecticide. However, since the tragedy, all experiments have been halted until complete tests are completed.

Collection Donated

Hughes' insect collection and books have been donated to the San Jose State college Science department by his wife. The books will be added to the Hazeltime Memorial library, Dr. Duncan said.

The insect collection will be displayed in the Science department show cases in the near future.

While at San Jose State Hughes was active in the Entomology club and Tri Beta, the biological science society. "The death of such a young chap who showed so much promise was a real loss," Dr. Duncan said.

Attended SJS

Hughes attended SJS before the war, and after a period of military service, returned to obtain his degree. Following graduation in June, 1947, he went to the University of Nebraska. There working on a fellowship, he received his MA and returned to California to work at Riverside.

Dr. Duncan termed the addition to the Science library "an important and generous gift." He added that San Jose State college is proud of Hughes and of the record he and three other SJS graduates have made at the experimental station.

Naval Reserve Officer Will Answer Questions

Lt. Newman will answer all questions concerning the Naval Aviation Cadet program, Naval Reserve commissions, and the coming examination for Naval Reserve Officers Training corps.

In many cases, veterans with two years of college are eligible for commissions in the Naval Reserve, according to Chief Jansen.

The Naval recruiting station is located in room 227 of the Post Office building.

Student 'Y' Club Sets Frosh Quota

San Jose State college's Student Y is organizing five freshmen clubs for incoming frosh. The plan, not new to the college, is being revised slightly this year in order to insure maximum activity.

Bob Langston, chairman of freshmen clubs, revealed that only 100 freshmen would be permitted this year. The reason for the quota was necessitated by the great enrollments of past years. The program is run on the following plan. There will be five clubs of 20 members both men and women. Each club will elect a president who will also serve as a member of the Frosh Club council. Each club will have two student councillors. A faculty advisor will be named in the near future for the entire group.

Langston said that all but one of the student councillors have been named. The nine appointed are Shirley Crandall, Marge Goodie, Betty Ishimatsu, Barbara Kinst, Margaret Murphy, Art Butler, Bert Howard, John Jacobsen and Jack Kelly.

Students can sign up Monday in the Student Y lounge, 220 S. Seventh street.

Tuesday, Dr. Bruntz spoke before a pro-American group at the Civic auditorium. His topic was "The New Implications of the Atlantic Pact."

In honor of United Nations day, October 24, Dr. Bruntz spoke Wednesday night to the San Jose Quota club at the Sainte Claire hotel on the subject of "The UN."
